Senator Humphrey Tells Subcommittee:

Luck Played Role In Keeping Down Use of Thalidomide

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said today a "tragic, avoidable gap" in international exchange of information let the drug thalidomide get into the hands of 1,200 U.S. physicians.

Humphrey, in private life a pharmacist, said in a statement prepared for the opening of hearings by a Government Operations subcommittee, that sheer luck played a part in preventing the drug from causing widespread deformities among babies in this country.

It was only by chance, he said, that Dr. Frances Kelsey of the Food and Drug Administration found information on the effects of the drug in a letter to the editor of one of the world's 4,000 medical journals.

Dr. Kelsey was called as a witness in the hearings, which Humphrey said are directed at coordinating the exchange of drug information among U.S. agencies and between American and foreign agencies.

Humphrey said his subcommittee would not go over the ground already covered by Sen. Estes Kefauver's Antimonopoly subcommittee in its study of pharmaceutical legislation. Chairman Kefauver, D-Tenn., announced Tuesday that his committee would be asked to approve an amendment to pending legislation to require adequate tests on animals before new drugs are marketed.

Kefauver said in a statement that thalidomide, blamed for causing birth deformities when given to pregnant women as a tranquilizer, had been tested only on mice and rats before it was distributed. He said that after it was put on the market, tests on

Senate Group OK's Tax Bill

New Plan Faced by Stiff Floor Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—After weeks of hearings, the Senate Finance Committee has approved a amended version of President Kennedy's tax revision bill. But Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said he would carry to the floor his fight against its key provision.

The Virginian said today he would try to knock out the investment credit provision, designed as an incentive to American business to modernize its machinery and equipment.

Byrd plans to use as one of his main arguments the contention that the bill as it cleared the committee will cost the Treasury an estimated $756 million a year.

As it passed the House, the bill was figured to provide a $120 million.

Political Rivals Continue Peace Talks In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—Deputy Premier Mohammed Boudiaf, released by guerrilla troops, returned to Algiers today to join other quarreling leaders of the new nation in peace talks.

One of dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's bitterest enemies, Boudiaf was arrested by pro-Ben Bella troops of the Wilaya (military zone) No. 1 while visiting his home town of M'Sila in eastern Algeria.

Minister of State Rabah Bitat, a Ben Bella supporter, flew to the Wilaya headquarters at Batna in the Aures Mountains Tuesday night to bring Boudiaf back to the capital.

Ben Bella was still in Oran, his western Algerian headquarters, but a spokesman said he planned to join the other leaders in Algiers Thursday.

Meanwhile, he was represented at the Algiers talks by his right hand man, Mohammed Khider, who has taken a leading part in

Faubus Victor In Arkansas Primary Race

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus, soft-pedaling the integration issue which spread his name around the world, swept to an unprecedented fifth term in Arkansas' Democratic primary Tuesday.

Faubus, who in 1957-58 became a symbol of resistance to the U.S. Supreme Court's desegregation order, said his reelection proved Arkansas does not want an extremist in the governor's chair.

The role of moderate was a new one for Faubus who courted segregationist votes and got them in waves in 1958 and 1960.

In this campaign he handed the segregationist banner to Rep. Dale Alford and pinned an integrationist label on former Gov. Sid McMath. Alford and McMath waged a spirited but meaningless battle for second place among Faubus' five opponents.

Sen. J. William Fulbright easily won nomination to a fourth term over Winston Chandler, a Little Rock businessman.

Returns from 2,029 of 2,348 precincts gave Faubus 152,332 votes to 134,041 for the combined opposition. Alford got 57,450, McMath 55,817, businessman Vernon Whitlen 14,636, attorney Kenneth Coffelt 4,409 and farmer David A. Cox 1,469.

Fulbright had 153,073 votes, Chandler 82,511 in 1,946 precincts. An anticipated heavy vote failed to materialize. Although the Faubus victory trend was established early, he lost strength from 1960 when he polled 58.7 per cent of a record 407,183 votes.

All five opponents made the fifth term the overriding issue,

U.S. Officials Consider New Test Ban Plan

May Propose End To Tests Which Produce Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are reported considering a new bid to Russia designed to break the cycle of American and Soviet nuclear weapons testing.

One proposal reported under serious study would call for a ban on tests which cause radioactive fallout, meaning tests in the atmosphere and under water. These can be detected at great distances.

Such a ban could be policed with present detection arrangements without the necessity of setting up new, international inspection procedures inside the Soviet Union and the territory of other nuclear powers.

President Kennedy scheduled the latest in a series of nuclear test policy conferences for late this afternoon at the White House. He will go into that meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other top policy advisers immediately after his news conference.

The meeting was expected to produce decisions on U.S. moves in the nuclear test negotiations being carried on at the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference.

The United States has substantially completed its series of atmospheric and high altitude tests over the central Pacific which began last spring. Underground tests begun earlier have been continued in Nevada.

The Soviet government, which resumed testing late last year after a worldwide moratorium of almost three years, has announced its intention to hold a new round of nuclear experiments.

Policy problems before the President and his advisers were authoritatively reported to fall into two groups.

First there are the problems growing out of new scientific advances in the detection and identification of underground nuclear explosions such as would be prohibited by a treaty ban on all nuclear weapons tests.

The United States is expected to present the new scientific data at the disarmament conference and find out whether Russia will agree to negotiate on an inspection on Soviet territory. The Soviet Union has opposed such inspection.

The other problems grow out of this Soviet rejection of inspection proposals. A general review of U.S. policy has led some officials to ask whether it would not be advisable to try for a partial test ban if a total treaty prohibition continues to prove unobtainable.

Red Spy Ships Leave Area of U.S. Testing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Russian instrument ships which spied on U.S. nuclear tests for weeks in the Pacific steamed away after the 200-mile high shot on July 9, it was disclosed today.

That high altitude test of a hydrogen device over Johnston Island was believed to have given U.S. scientists—and perhaps the Russians—important information on the effects of such a mammoth explosion on communications and radar. Such data is considered vital in developing an antimissile system.

The test also may have given the Russians significant clues on U.S. progress in perfecting nuclear weapons.

It was considered possible that the four Red ships may have been recalled to observe the new series of Russian nuclear tests that the Soviet Union has announced it will undertake.

U.S. patrol planes had kept watch on the Russian instrument ships.

A disclosure that the snooper fleet had departed came a day after the United States had indicated it would hold further high altitude tests after repairing a launching pad. The launching pad was heavily damaged when a Thor rocket was destroyed July 25.

The Russian vessels took in as many as 27 U.S. nuclear test explosions. Most of the device were dropped from airplanes and most released the blast power of less than a million tons of TNT.

Since the Russian ships were in international waters, the United States could not order them away.

Baillie Named Bliss Division Manager Here

George Baillie, Jr., of 1555 Brookwood Manor, Salem, and Carl H. Smith of Canton have been named division managers for the E. W. Bliss Company in Salem and Canton, respectively, according to an announcement today by O. O. Vaught, general manager of Bliss' Heavy Equipment Division.

Baillie was promoted from assistant general manager of Bliss' Heavy Equipment Division here to fill the position vacated June 28 when George Perrault was made executive vice-president at Canton.

Earlier Baillie had been sales manager for the company's rolling mill division. A Salem native, he joined Bliss in 1947 as a student engineer. He later worked in field erection, estimating, and sales departments. He served in the European theater with the U.

Foreign Aid Bill Signed by JFK

Authorizes Spending Of $4,672,000,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed today the $4,672,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill, and said he could not emphasize too strongly how important it is.

Among other things, the measure permits Kennedy to continue limited aid to Communist countries—a point disputed bitterly in Congress.

Kennedy signed the measure as a large bipartisan congressional delegation looked on.

The authorization measure includes a four-year $2.4-billion Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

The bill's authorization for foreign aid this fiscal year is $206.5 million less than Kennedy's original request. It still faces the possibility of much sharper cutting when the appropriations bill comes up. The appropriation measure provides the actual money for which the authorization bill simply sets ceilings.

This year's program, for instance, carries $1.5 billion for military assistance to allies and $1.25 billion in economic development loans which were authorized last year.

The authorization bill's passage was a victory for the administration in a fight to kill a proposed Senate amendment to deny aid—except surplus farm commodities—to such Communist nations as Po-

Indonesia, Dutch May Sign Truce

West New Guinea Agreement Nears

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio flew home today to sell President Sukarno on a settlement with the Dutch on West New Guinea.

Hopes were high here and in Washington that a final accord will be signed by mid-August.

But Sukarno first must retreat from his frequent pledge to take the Dutch-held territory by Jan. 1. Under the preliminary agreement worked out at a country estate near Washington, Indonesia would not get full control of the territory until next May.

Reports from The Hague indicated, however, that the preliminary agreement gives Sukarno a face-saving out—a token realization of his pledge—by providing for a symbolic raising of the Indonesian flag over West New Guinea on Aug. 17.

Subandrio refused Tuesday night to predict Sukarno's reaction to the preliminary agreement but he also expressed hope that

'Susan Seachrist' Day Is Planned At N. Waterford

NEW WATERFORD — Area churches will observe "Susan Seachrist Day," Sunday, Aug. 12.

An appeal will be made during the morning worship hour for donations to aid in reducing medical expenses which have resulted from two open-heart surgery operations undergone by Miss Seachrist within the past year.

Other area community organizations will participate in the observance which is being coordinated by Mrs. Mary Flowers.

Susan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Seachrist of W. Main St., is currently recovering from her second heart operation at Hanna House, (room 30), University Hospital, Cleveland.

A 1960 graduate of Crestview High School, she will observe her 20th birthday on Aug. 13. She is employed by the Fairfield-Waterford School District, serving as secretary at the New Waterford elementary school.

Susan, who has been confined to her hospital room since June 4, would welcome mail, friends say.

Any organization wishing to take part in this observance is requested to contact Mrs. Flowers or Mrs. Edward Bretz or the New Waterford Bank, Charles Koch, president.

Grant Keys, director of the department of highway safety, has instructed the State Highway Patrol, municipal police, sheriffs and the courts to discuss the problem and attempt to determine ways and means of meeting it.

"Speed must be reduced, drivers and pedestrians must be made to realize their responsibilities and violators must be dealt with firmly," Keys emphasized.

Senators Halt Plan To End Filibustering

Republican Members Object to 10-Day Study by Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican Senators torpedoed a compromise solution for breaking off a Democratic filibuster over the administration's satellite bill, leaving the next move of the Senate leadership up in the air.

The truce plan backed by both Democratic and Republican leaders, was smashed Tuesday night after a long day of flaring tempers, denunciations and apologies.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, had the filibustering Democrats seemingly ready to agree to a 10-day referral of the bill to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. This would have given the Senate time to work on other business before the bill came up again.

However, in order to pass the move had to have unanimous consent. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., objected.

A short time later a similar attempt was made. This time Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., objected.

The frustrated Democratic leader then recessed the Senate until noon to allow committees to catch up with a backlog of hearings. They have been unable to meet while the filibuster has been going on.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, had joined Mansfield in proposing the U.S. Steel Chief Favors Cut In Taxes

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger M. Blough says a cut in federal income taxes would help sagging steel industry profits by freeing more money to put into plant modernization.

Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., the No. 1 producer, also favors a cut in federal spending. He praises Defense Department efforts in this direction.

Ever since major steel companies were balked in an attempt to make a price rise stick in April, Blough has argued strongly for increased investment in steelmaking equipment as an answer to stiffening competition from abroad and new materials at home.

Newsmen drew out his views Tuesday after U.S. Steel reported that April-June earnings of $40.2 million, or 63 cents a share, failed to cover the regular quarterly common stock dividend of 75 cents.

Nevertheless, directors voted to continue the customary payout.

Like other steelmakers, U.S. Steel was hit hard by slumping production after a new industry-wide wage settlement at the end of March wiped out a strike threat, and ended heavy stockpiling by major users.

In recent weeks, output has risen but remains at about one-half of industry capacity.

Blough said July-September operations probably would fall behind the second quarter but he foresaw significant improvement in the last three months of the year if the nation's economy held on an even keel.

U.S. Steel's second-quarter profits compared with $55.8 million, or 91 cents a share, cleared in the first quarter this year and with $59 million, or 98 cents a share, earned in the second quarter of 1961.

For the first six months, earnings amounted to $96 million as against $91 million in the first half of 1961.

TV Personalities Pursue 2 Hobbies

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The television sector in this tight little island of show business currently pursues two hobbies: Sun bathing and sleeper-hunting.

A sleeper is slang for a program neither expensive nor star-studded that slips into view without tub-thumping and becomes a hit. Sleeper-hunting is, of course, a seasonal sport and one fraught with peril. (Last season I was bitten by two—"The New Bob Cummings Show" and "Cain's Hundred.") One was an early-season disaster and the other barely limped through the winter).

So many of the experts (out here an expert is anyone who speaks grammatically and looks you straight in the eye) are talking about "Beverly Hillsbillies," a little CBS situation comedy. In fact, there's so much talk it may lose sleeper status.

This is the series about an Ozark family that strikes it rich in oil and moves into a Beverly Hills estate. The comedy idea is time-tired and basic, so the way the situation is handled will be the thing.

Buddy Ebsen, the dancing star who turned character actor and achieved some degree of television immortality playing Davy Crockett's buddy, stars as the head of the hillbilly family in this version. Ebsen believes he's got a winner.

"It has several things going for it—including the scripts," said Ebsen, a rather laconic man. "First, there's the contrast between a historically primitive culture and an extremely modern one. And the simple one doesn't come off second best because the people are kind and direct."

"Then there's the business about the country jakes with 25 million dollars who appear to be ripe for the slickers—but never get taken because of their basic honesty and goodness. People always like that—the story of the wise fools, a classic."

There's bound to be a lot of comedy about moonshine, sows, and black-eyed peas, and a little of this sort of thing can go a long way.

Nice to have quiet-mannered Merv Griffin back on the "Tonight Show" after Jack E. Leonard's frenetic week during which nobody else got a word in edgewise... and hasn't the return of Jack Lescoulie to the NBC show on the other end of the day brightened and smartened things up?

Job Totals for July To Be Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—Job totals for July—one of the major economic indicators on which President Kennedy plans to base his decision on whether to ask Congress for a quick tax cut—are announced today.

Preliminary indications were that the new figures would show some improvement over the June job totals, but perhaps not enough to dispel a widespread belief the economy is stuck on dead center.

The statistic being most closely watched is the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate. In June, it edged up slightly to 5.5 per cent of the work force.

This was taken as an unfavorable sign, since the rate had remained steady for many months. Another idle rate increase in July would surely be regarded as ominous. The June totals showed a record 69,539,000 employed and 4,463,000 unemployed. The employed total is on the verge of crossing the 70 million mark for the first time in history.

Today's job figures will be added to other government statistical reports that Kennedy and his advisers have under study in search of a clear indication of which way the economy is heading.

The President has said it is difficult to determine whether the economy is merely pausing on the way toward a gradual upward climb or actually has become stalled with a danger of turning downward again.

Kennedy has already promised to propose an across-the-board cut in individual and corporate income taxes effective next Jan. 1. The question is whether faster tax relief is necessary now.

It's a Familiar Story

It's history now, but for many years the state fire marshal's office ordered the old Columbian County jail at Lisbon and the old Salem City Hall torn down because they were classified as fire hazards. And, they were.

The City Hall here withstood the ravages of time and the onslaught of state edicts until voters approved a bond issue for a new municipal building. In the county seat, however, commissioners finally complied with the grand jury and the state fire marshal's instructions and the century-old bastille came tumbling down. Prisoners were boarded at the Mahoning County jail at Youngstown until voters sanctioned a new county jail. It was erected on the same N. Market St. site in Lisbon.

Now the fussing and feuding is over the County Home.

State fire marshal and state building inspector are demanding that the old infirmaries be repaired and modernized or abandoned. About 60 days ago county commissioners were given an extension to repair the Home and, following the latest conference Monday, it looks like another grace period will be forthcoming.

This will provide commissioners with time to prepare an operating levy for submission at the November election. Three previous rejections by voters of similar levy propositions won't deter the county officials because they know that they have an obligation to care for the elderly people whose misfortune it is to be public wards.

Spending thousands of dollars to make the old County Home livable may be pouring good money after bad, but until such time as Columbian County has a new infirmaries building, it's the only alternative.

Gandhi's Passive Resistance

You wonder if lawmen in the Deep South and the pillars of the community who hold them upright remember Mahatma Gandhi.

You wonder if these people ever even heard of the little man who pried India away from the British Empire by passive resistance.

Gandhi preached nonviolence. One of his favorite moves was to have his followers lie down in the streets. It wasn't as embarrassing to pick them up as it is in Albany, Ga., to throw them in jail for praying on the city hall steps, but it made British soldiers look like ruthless oppressors.

Gandhi was killed in 1948 by a political fanatic. His death was an anticlimax. He was nearing his 80th year and had offered his life so many times in hunger strikes and civil disobedience demonstrations no one would have guessed he would live so long.

When the Creepers Gallop

When our creeping socialists rise up on their hind legs and break into a gallop, it's a fearful thing to see.

They staged a demonstration in the U.S. Senate when they started a filibuster to stall passage of legislation on communications satellites — the system represented at the moment by Telstar, American Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s satellite.

What are the creepies trying to do?

They are trying to get their hands on this newest technique for long-distance communication, thus accomplishing at one sweep what they had been unable to do piecemeal.

In the United States, telephone and radio systems are privately owned. Telegraph is privately owned. The only way government

One Way to Stop It

If we knew where all of our foreign aid grants went, and especially how the monies were spent, most of us taxpayers would probably renege on April 15.

Congressman Wayne Hays' own fears, expressed at the Columbian Rotary Club meeting Monday night, leave little to the imagination in wondering how many American dollars are squandered by suave, foreign diplomats whose tricky manipulations, could make Bluebeard, the pirate, look like a piker.

So long as Uncle Sam's going to continue handing out the bags of money, couriers from abroad will keep knocking at the White House door. However, if there are enough "nay" votes from congressmen like Mr. Hays, the rug can be pulled out from under these "beggars" and they might even decide to try to earn their own livelihood.

Image Making

What would you have shown on the first Telstar-transmitted television?

Would your choices have been the same as that of the harried TVeeps who picked the Statue of Liberty, Mt. Rushmore, a ball game, the Golden Gate Bridge and Niagara Falls?

If you had been on the other side of the Atlantic would you have picked the Eiffel Tower, Big Ben, the Vatican and trained horses in Vienna?

Here is going to be the knottiest problem of instantaneous transmission of television—what to show. We've loused it up in radio, movies and TV tapes it's an odds-on bet we'll be unable to handle it in television. Picture images of America like word images transmitted in newspapers, magazine articles and books have left so much to be desired that nothing is going to be changed at this date.

What's wrong?

Simply that the United States is too vast to be put into focus and kept there. It is everything at once. The confusion has been so frustrating the image-makers have made up their own images.

Thus, millions of people abroad think Americans are cowboys, racketeers, millionaires, semi-savages who find huge delight in lynching Negroes, or Okies in beaten-up trucks.

Under the same kind of misapprehension, millions of Americans think all Englishmen say "By Jove!" and set their watches by Big Ben, that all Frenchmen gape at the Eiffel Tower when they are not gaping at nearly nude cuties in the "Folies Bergere,"

Two years later, India was independent. Gandhi had made his point long before his death. He had proved that nothing makes an armed man look more brutal than an unarmed, nonviolent, passive citizen defying the armed man's authority.

You wonder if Southern lawmen and upright people who are telling them what to do about passive resistance by Negroes—how to put them in jail and make them feel the strength of the law—ever heard of Mahatma Gandhi. You don't wonder about the Negroes, though, Gandhi is their preceptor.

The skinny little man spent years in jail. He calculated that every year the British had him in jail brought him that much closer to the thing he was trying to do—force withdrawal of oppression against his followers.

can nib into these enterprises is in the guise of control.

THIS IS THE way Americans want it to be, especially if they have had experience with government-owned communication systems abroad. But creeping socialists never give up; they want to run everything.

A satellite communications setup made their hearts beat faster when it was proposed. This looked like their big chance to move in on private enterprise—another Tennessee Valley Administration, no less.

They argued that because the satellites were a new wrinkle they were diffident in principle and needed a strong political hand to keep them under control. Even the Kennedy administration, no stranger to creeping socialists, gagged on that preposterous reasoning.

The legislative proposal that set off the filibuster was a compromise, because it told the private enterprise system that developed Telstar and paid to have it lobbed into orbit what it and any other company must do about splitting up ownership. But this is less than half as vicious as the creeping socialists' ruthless proposal for turning over satellite communication systems to politicians outright.

LIBERALS like Sen. Wayne Morse, the renegade Oregon Republican now in the Democratic camp, staging a filibuster?

Americans seriously proposing public ownership of a communications system?

Professional bleeders drawing blood when a chance comes to hold the filibuster knife at the throat of the capitalist system?

Strange, yes, but these are wondrous strange people, these creeping socialists when they rise up on their hind legs.

By Truman Twill

that the Swiss yodel, Italians spend their time squeezed like sardines in St. Peter's Square, Germans go through life with a mug of beer in one hand and a wrench in the other and all Irishmen are a cross between leprechauns and lushes.

We all know what's wrong with the picture of ourselves—all of us, that is except literalists who never learned to discount all of what they hear and half of what they see. We take misrepresentations in our stride, the way we take fairy stories.

But it won't be as easy for foreigners abroad to discount what they see and hear when instant television is added to their sources of misinformation. They lack the advantage of mass tourism that takes hordes of Americans abroad to see first-hand that there's more to England than Big Ben, more to France than the Eiffel Tower, more to Rome than the Vatican.

But there's good reason to be encouraged. Millions of us have learned what our country looks like thanks to television. We have learned more about its thoughts and problems. Television has taken us to many distance places and made us aware of things we never would have thought about otherwise. It has discouraged snap judgments.

There is a massive paradox in the making—that television now is going to bring the world so close we'll never have it within our grasp again.

Wendell L. Willkie made us aware of one-worldism. What we need to be aware of now is multiple-worldism.

Television can help to show us the world as it is, instead of the world as we have imagined it to be.

If He Isn't Sick, He Soon Will Be!

Is Nike Zeus Doomed?

By RAY CROMLEY

While Nike Zeus was scoring its phenomenal theoretical "kill" of an intercontinental missile in the Pacific, Defense Secretary McNamara's top scientific aides were discussing electronic breakthroughs which might make a full Zeus defense system obsolete by the time it could be built.

McNamara's assistants think that if the Department of Defense and Congress agreed by this fall that Nike Zeus should go into production a comprehensive $10 - $15 billion 27 - city defense system could not be put into full operation until 1967.

But here's what is in the works electronically:

SENSATIONAL electronic counter measures (ECM) — gadgets that could be carried by ballistic missiles to "fuzz up" Nike Zeus radars. The first of these ECM are coming along well ahead of schedule. Some of the sensational new gadgets will be operable well before 1967, scientists predict.

How these gadgets work is secret. Some will blur the effectiveness of radar with random shadow signals, some by dumping out part of the radar signals and some by simulating moving "missile" shapes and speeds that are erroneous.

Similar ECM are being worked on by the Russians. These ECM are expected to make current U. S. and Soviet anti-missile missiles obsolete.

MISSILE NOSE CONES that could split like skyrocket into a burst of several deadly warheads. Such weapons could theoretically "saturate" Nike Zeus defensive radars.

The problems connected with creating such a "splitting" ballistic missile aren't solved yet. But they do not seem insurmountable to the scientists. There's belief that such missiles will be feasible by shortly after 1967. There's also reason to believe that Nikita Khrushchev's scientists are working on a similar concept.

TINY SENSORS in the nose cones of ICBMs which would detect anti-missile missiles from a distance, direct the ICBM into an evasive tactic.

The tiny sensors are already being developed. They're expected to be usable by 1964 or 1965. The system for tying these sensors in with an appropriate evasive tactic mechanism is not yet developed, but this problem seems soluble to technical men.

A FANTASTIC SCHEME for "guiding" in intercontinental "ballistic" missile during the latter part of its course by radio signals, presumably sent via some satellite.

This concept, however, won't likely be developed before the 1970s and therefore is not a real argument against Nike Zeus now. Its mentioned because Defense scientists now believe there are so many possibilities for the development of ICBMs that could evade the Nike Zeus system that it would be advisable to concentrate on an anti-missile missile system that could handle a wide variety of possible ICBM developments.

The catch is that these scientists have no such system, only ideas.

They're toying with highly - focused light beams and other means of transferring energy long distances into space to deform enemy ICBM warheads and thus destroy them. They've thought of anti-missile missile systems that would send out a screen of tiny particles into space at high speeds, of anti-missile missile that would shoot out a spray of smaller missiles. They have thought of satellites that would shoot down an ICBM at blastoff.

But thus far there has been no breakthrough. So McNamara keeps toying with Nike Zeus in the hope that experimental work with this system will show a way to develop it into something with a wider ability to handle a massive continental attack of 1968 - 1970 - type ICBMs armed with efficient electronic defensive devices.

Army men claim that the Nike Zeus system has the capacity to grow along with electronic developments. The Nike Zeus tests will continue in the Pacific for at least another year and possibly longer. There will be probably somewhere around three dozen or more test shots, growing progressively more difficult.

In the later tests, the Nike Zeus men will pit their missile against a series of "ICBMs" equipped with electronic counter measures, accompanied by decoys and shaped in designs and coated in a way calculated to confuse the Nike Zeus radars.

JFK Acts As If Business Were a Sick Patient

The spectacle of a president of the United States watching over the country's business mechanism as if it were a sick patient and waiting for the opportune moment to administer with a hypodermic, is, psychologically at least, a strange one.

It could prolong rather than cure the illness. The argument about whether to ask Congress to grant a tax cut now or next January ignores the realities. The theory back of a tax reduction is that the money saved by the taxpayer would be used to spur spending. But the truth is that people in the aggregate have plenty of money today which they could spend if they weren't scared — lots of it in savings banks and lots of it in surpluses in corporations.

The real trouble is a widespread fear that savings will be depleted and cash accumulations drained if business gets worse and if what's ailing business isn't soon remedied.

The nation doesn't really need a general tax cut, either for individuals or corporations, though there are some glaring inequities that should be promptly removed.

A business making $1 million a year today pays the U.S. Treasury $520,000 in taxes and retains $480,000. If, by the cut in tax rates now being suggested for corporations, the rate was to go from 52 per cent to 48 per cent, it would mean that the same business would retain $520,000, and the government would get $480,000.

This would represent a net gain for the above business of exactly $40,000. Ask any businessman which he would rather have — a gain of only $40,000, or a rise of about $240,000 in net profits — and he will quickly choose the larger sum.

How could he get that extra $240,000? If business conditions improved and his sales rose so that his profits were $1½ million a year, he would have an additional net after taxes of $240,000 without any change whatsoever in tax rates.

INCREASED VOLUME of sales is a much more important factor than a tax cut. The latter could conceivably diminish public confidence because of the big treasury deficit that would be incurred.

It could bring an array of new and perhaps more acute problems as the finances of the United States come under the sharp scrutiny of the outside world, especially because of the big deficit.

Arctic Cook Book

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Suppose you were having a distinguished Eskimo to dinner, and you found out his favorite dishes were walrus stew and boiled owl.

Would you know how to go about cooking a walrus or biling an owl?

Or suppose this very important Eskimo hinted that he doted most on bear feet or soured seal liver. Would you know how to prepare these tempting Far Northern delicacies?

The four most popular literary topics today seemingly are dieting, the hydrogen bomb, the Civil War, and cook books of all kinds. Perhaps the perfect title for a best-seller today would be "How to Lose Weight While Cooking the Civil War over a Hydrogen Bomb."

While the market has been flooded with cook books, the fine old culinary skills found in Arctic Circle igloos have been overlooked completely.

This lack has been remedied by the publication of a small paperbacked cook book of age-old Eskimo recipes. The students of Shishmaref Day School in Shishmaref, Alaska, got the recipes from their mothers.

Eskimo cookery is simplicity itself, and any harried American housewife wanting to fix a quick easy meal for her family might find this recipe for frozen flounders just the answer for her problem.

"After the flounders are caught, let them freeze. Eat as much as you want of it."

That dish has another advantage for budget-minded wives—it cuts down on the gas bill.

Now about that walrus stew: "Cut the walrus in small pieces and also cut up the skin and blubber. Then put them together in the pot to boil. Add salt and water."

As for that boiled owl: "Take feathers off from owl. Throw away feathers. Clean owl and put in cooking pot. Have lots of water in pot. Add salt to taste."

What are some of the things that need to be done? Here are a few:

Stop tampering with the normal and natural processes of the free enterprise system and leave it to Moscow to argue for government ownership or the suppression of private incentive as a way of life.

Recent speeches by so-called "liberal" Democrats during the filibuster in the Senate espousing government ownership of communications projects in the air have alarmed investors, who see this as a movement hostile to private business.

Stop asking for the election of more "liberals" who want the government to take over and run the country.

Stop the flow of gobbledygook on "guidelines" for wage and price increases. If prices or wages are to be regulated by the government, it's better to set up a wage-price board under federal law.

STOP USING antitrust laws to harass business and start getting laws that will do away with monopolistic power exercised by either big unionism or big business.

Stop interfering with the operations of American businesses in Europe which are bringing back hundreds of millions of dollars a year in tax revenue, and stop telling them they cannot use their earnings for reinvestment. Competing businesses owned by the British and other Europeans are permitted to do so by their respective governments.

Stop scaring promoters of free enterprise. Make them feel they have a future and that investors have a better-than-even chance of getting their money back at a profit if they now lay long-range plans based on the natural growth of America's population and the inevitable triumphs that efficiency can bring in a self-stabilizing economy.

There is nothing wrong with the economic situation currently that can't be corrected by a change in business psychology brought about by a conservative-minded president and a conservative-minded Congress elected in November.

Conservatism today primarily means to conserve the free enterprise system as against those who would undermine it and perhaps unwittingly destroy it.

the cook book observes. "We cook them well, add salt. Four feet would take about one teaspoon of salt. Take them out of the pot and let them get cool. Eat them with seal oil."

To appreciate the taste thrill of soured seal liver requires a palate truly educated to the nuances of Eskimo cooking.

The student who submitted this recipe said: "Soured seal liver is made in the summertime. Place liver in enamel pot or dish and cover with blubber. Put in a warm place for a few days until sour. Most of the boys and girls don't like it, except the grown-ups and old people. I don't like it either."

The best way to top off a native meal, naturally, is with Eskimo ice cream, made as follows:

"Grate reindeer tallon into small pieces. Add seal oil slowly while beating with hand. While whipping, continue adding seal oil and water until white and fluffy. Any berries can be added to it."

The cook book was prepared by the students to raise funds for handicapped children. You can get a copy by sending 60 cents to the Alaska Crippled Children's Association at Anchorage, Alaska.

10-day referral motion with instructions for the Foreign Relations Committee to report the bill back by Aug. 10. He suggested another try for an agreement might be made when tempers cooled.

The true plan ran into a buzz-saw of Republican protests that the 10-day interval might give Democrats a chance to ram through a bitterly disputed farm aid bill.

Mansfield said he would oppose such an effort but told the Republicans he could not guarantee the effort would not be made.

Mansfield and Dirksen still were armed with a debate-limiting cloture petition for use if necessary.

Under it, the Senate would have to vote within 48 hours after its introduction. Two-thirds of those voting would have to approve the debate limitation.

A number of Republicans, including Goldwater and Tower, urged the leaders to wear down Sens. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and the other filibusterers by holding round-the-clock sessions.

The group of Democratic liberals object to the bill's purpose of setting up a privately-owned, government-regulated corporation to operate a global space communications system.

They contend it would be a giveaway of tax money spent on space research.

lion surplus.

Byrd passed his vote as the committee approved the bill 9-2 Tuesday after struggling with it through hearings and executive sessions since April 2.

Administration Senate leaders have said they may hold up the tax measure until the President decides whether to seek a cut in personal income tax rates this session.

Byrd succeeded during his committee's consideration of the bill in knocking out the biggest revenue-producing provision in it—a tax withholding plan on dividends and interest.

The Treasury had estimated this would pick up at least $650 million in taxes.

The administration's chances of restoring this on the floor appeared slim.

The committee also softened the President's proposals to tighten up on the expense account deductions and to increase levies sharply on foreign incomes of U.S. corporations. Kennedy's backers believe they have a chance to win stiffer provisions in a floor fight.

Algeria

reconciliation moves during the past few days.

The power struggle that has virtually paralyzed Algeria since it won independence has pitted Ben Bella against Boudiaf and still another deputy premier, Bekkiam Krim.

Boudiaf and Krim are supported by an estimated 10,000 Berber guerrillas of Wilaya No. 3, in their native Kabylie Mountains. Ben Bella claims the allegiance of most of the other guerrilla forces in the country and the 45,000-man regular Algerian army.

Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda meanwhile has moved toward a neutral position in the dispute, appealing to both sides to end their split and warning that the country is on the brink of ruin.

Restrictions Eased On 10 Dairy Drivers

a formal treaty can be signed by mid-August.

Subandrio conferred for 40 minutes with U.N. Acting Secretary General U Thant and reported on the tentative settlement he reached with Dutch Ambassador J. H. Van Roijen through the mediation efforts of U.S. diplomat Ellsworth Bunker.

The United Nations then issued the first formal announcement of the preliminary agreement, which had been reported earlier by high diplomatic sources in Washington. A U.N. spokesman said "official negotiations" will take place under Thant's auspices about the middle of August.

Van Roijen was flying to The Hague today to report to his government. He and Subandrio are expected to meet with Thant here to draw up the final accord.

The tentative agreement was reached after months of effort by the two sides to a settlement before the 12-year-old dispute broke into open warfare.

16,000 Aluminum Workers on Strike

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A dispute over automation led to a strike by about 16,000 workers today against the nation's two largest producers of aluminum.

The AFL-CIO Aluminum Workers International Union began picketing 10 Aluminum Co. of America plants and 12 Reynolds Aluminum plants at about 12:30 a.m.

Negotiators for the two firms and the union were still in session here when their contracts expired at midnight. As the strike began Robert W. Donahoe of Philadelphia, regional director of the Federal Mediation Service, said "The Aluminum Workers International Union rejected the companies' proposal."

No further contract talks were scheduled.

The dispute involved union demands for job security. Wages were not at issue.

Reynolds began shutting down its plants a few hours before the strike began. Alcoa began tapping smelting furnaces Sunday night in anticipation of the strike.

The Alcoa plants are at Chillicothe, Ohio, Lancaster, Pa., Cresona, Pa., Warrick, Ind., Lafayette, Ind., Davenport, Iowa, Massena, N.Y., Wenatchee, Wash., Vancouver, Wash., and East St. Louis, Ill.

The Reynolds plants are at St. Louis, Bellwood, Va., Louisville, Ky., Richmond, Va., Massena, N.Y., and Sheffield, Ala. Five of the Reynolds plants are at Louisville, two at Richmond and two at Sheffield.

Eddie R. Stahl, president of the Aluminum Workers Union, said the main issues in dispute were job security and protection against displacement by automation. The union has lost 5,000 members in the last three years because of plant automation, he said.

Racial Tension Key To Albany Battle

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Racial tension—how much or how little —was the key issue today in a federal court fight over Negro mass demonstrations against segregation.

Police Chief Laurie Pritchett on his assertion that mass marches and picketing by Negroes created a tense, explosive atmosphere.

Pritchett is a principal witness in the city's attempt to enjoin permanently several Negro leaders and groups from staging or promoting marches, picketing, boycotting and similar protest activity in this racial test spot.

The case is being heard by U.S. Dst. Judge J. Robert Elliott.

Even as the legal battle went on, 9 more Negroes were jailed for prayer-singing demonstrations at the library and city hall Tuesday and Tuesday night.

The demonstrators, mostly teenagers, pushed to more than 300 the number of arrests in the current series of protests. Since December, more than 1,100 arrests have been made as a result of demonstrations.

In yesterday's proceedings, Judge Elliott was kept busy refereeing between lawyer Donald L. Hollowell, representing Negro leaders, and Asst. State Atty. Gen. E. Freeman Leveritt, counsel for city officials.

Pritchett, on the stand for about six hours, testified he firmly believed an injunction was necessary to prevent serious disorder and possible bloodshed.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: I have been a chef in restaurants for more years than I care to remember. Here is the way we cook link sausages to keep them from spattering all over the stove. It is an old restaurant trick known to most any chef or cook.

Cut the link sausages apart and put them in a cooking pot big enough so that they can be covered with cold water. Place this over the burner on medium heat and just barely bring to a boil.

Take pot from the fire, place in the kitchen sink and run cold water over the sausages until they are completely cold. Then place in a colander and let them drain.

Put sausages in your refrigerator until ready for use. When ready to cook, place as many link sausages as you want to use in a cold frying pan. Turn on the heat and cook until they are brown on one side. Turn over on the other side and brown again when brown and hot clear through (avoid overcooking as this makes them tough) serve with a smile!

Wives will have no splatter or grease I buy two pounds at a time for home use and prepare them I then put six links of sausage on a piece of foil and wrap tightly and put in my deep freeze. This way, all I have to do when I am ready for sausage in our home for breakfast, is to take out one package at a time.

MOLLIE DARK

DEAR HELOISE: We have a dog and have discovered something which has proved invaluable to us. We cut off the leather handstrap on his lease and substituted his outgrown leather collar (the buckle kind).

When walking our dog, if we must go in a grocery store or such, we simply buckle the lease around anything handy!

BONNIE MILLER

DEAR HELOISE: Milk and other protein stains will cook on fabric if it is washed in hot water, just as an egg cooks on an egg beater if it is put directly into the hot dishwasher! Protein must be removed with cold water first.

Over a period of time, the sun will bleach out stains from fabrics.

Baby clothes that go into a diaper pail filled with cold water and a little vinegar before the milk dries on the clothes will stay much whiter.

MRS. G. E. JENSEN

DEAR HELOISE: Here is an idea for using plastic berry baskets.

When our church had its bazaar, I baked cookies... plain and fancy. I lined each berry basket with wax paper and filled the baskets with home-made cookies, laying fancy ones on top. I sprinkled the fancy ones with almonds and sugared walnuts.

I then took some clear plastic, the type that comes in a roll, and wrapped the basket. I tied it with colored ribbon. These

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Age, Alcohol And Accidents

There is an old saying to the effect that it takes two fools to make an accident. And this must be especially true if either "fool" was under the influence of alcoholic intoxicants.

The truth of the old saying has again been brought out in a report issued by the New York City Police Department and the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner. Together with surgeons of the Cornell University Medical School, these city officials investigated 200 fatal accidents that involved pedestrians. Here are the most important of their observations:

Most victims were in the over-50 age group.

Males predominated in a ratio 3-1.

Only 5 per cent of the vehicles involved in the fatal accidents were found to have had significant mechanical defects. But in over 80 per cent of the accidents, the pedestrian-victim appeared to have violated some safety regulation at the time of being struck. Such violations included crossing against a signal light or crossing at some place other than a recognized intersection.

In 43 per cent of pedestrian casualties, significant amounts of alcohol were found in brain tissue. Since alcohol analyses might not have been carried out until after the lapse of some hours or even days, the number of casualties in which the victim's alcoholism contributed to the fatal accident must have been higher than indicated by the report.

HERE ARE SOME OF the more important conclusions to be drawn from this valuable report:

If you are in the older age group, exert more than the usual care when you are afoot.

Obey all traffic rules. Cross only at indicated intersections. And wait until the signal light is in your favor.

Do not yield to the temptation to drink alcoholic beverages if you know that you will have to walk across intersections on your way to wherever you are going. Or, if you must go afoot, ask some one to escort you.

In fact, if you know you have interest of public safety, intelligent "one or more too many," ask the local police officer to see that you get home. Just as, in the interest of public safety, intelligent police officials will, on request, take over the car of a driver who recognizes his inability to operate his vehicle with safety.

AND FINALLY, if you are the driver involved in an accident in which the victim appears to have been at fault, perhaps due to an overdose of liquor, be sure you communicate that view to the officer on the scene. For you may require a witness other than yourself.

The process of digestion begins as soon as food enters the mouth where it is chewed, softened and moistened by saliva containing chemicals which helps dissolving of certain food constituents.

Settlement Ends 13-Day-Old Strike

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — Construction of 11 nuclear submarines resumed today as production workers at General Dynamics' Electric Boat Division returned to their jobs after a 13-day strike.

Work had been at a standstill in the sprawling yards of the nation's leading producer of nuclear submarines since the 8,700 workers walked off their jobs July 19 in a dispute that centered on seniority rights in event of layoffs.

The agreement was worked out in Washington last Friday after Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg intervened in the dispute.

The company estimated the strike cost 76,000 man-hours of production. It also forced postponement of the Aug. 4 launching of the Polaris submarine Alexander Hamilton. A new date must still be set.

The Navy was deeply concerned about the strike, and some of that concern spread to Congress, where requests were made for a quick settlement.

The strike followed a stalemate on a provision under the old contract enabling the company to lay off workers without regard to seniority if they were employed for fewer than seven years. Under the new contract the unrestricted period was trimmed to four years. The union had sought its elimination entirely.

The contract provides wage increases of 7 cents an hour in the first year, 7 cents in the second and 9 cents in the third. New fringe benefits were estimated by the company to be worth an additional 2 to 3 cents an hour.

AVIATION GRANT OK'D

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency has approved a grant of $912,650 for a new taxiway and high-speed jet turnoffs at Cleveland Hopkins Airport.

The taxiway would serve the 9,000-foot jet runway at the airport and the parallel instrument runway. Morgan Lauer, airport operations manager, said the federal aid would have to be matched by an equal amount of local funds.

Business Index Here Is Mixed

Salem's business barometer for June showed mixed indications. Of the six items used by the Chamber of Commerce in gauging business activity, four indicated growth and two pointed toward a decline from the same month a year ago.

A major item, the industrial payroll, was down $108,387 from June of 1961. The $1,526,250 paid to workers in local industries in June also was down $120,420 from the previous month.

The only other business indicator which showed a decline since June, 1961, was the number of electric meters in service. The 5,060 meters in operation during June were nine fewer than the number in service a year ago.

Showing healthy increases since June of last year were:

Gas meters, up 414 to 4,946; parking receipts, up $1,088 to $2,986; postal receipts, up $3,890, to $27,257; and telephones, up 176 to 9,135.

Washington's famed cherry tree generally bloom sometime between March 20 and April 17, with April 5 being the average date.

Schmidt is charged with breaking and entering Dan's Tavern on N. Market St., on July 16. Sheriff's deputies said Schmidt was implicated in the tavern burglary by an admitted accomplice, William Wright, 25, of Wellsville RD 1.

Wright was bound over to the grand jury last week after pleading guilty to a burglary July 25 at the Gay Morrell residence near Yellow Creek church. Wright is confined to the county jail.

STACK 'SHACK'

SOMEHOW it seems appropriate that actor Robert Stack, who stars as crime buster Elliot Ness in "The Untouchables," was once skeet-shooting champ of the world. In his Bel Air, Calif., home, Stack has a "stack" of trophies. Stack and his wife, actress Rosemarie Bow, are both avid tennis players and have their own court in their modern Hawaiian-style mansion.

They enjoy lunch in the informal dining area.

The Stacks relax after a brisk game of tennis in their own backyard court.

SIMPLE TIPS FOR BETTER GRILLING
Heat coals until good and white. Quickly sear steak on each side to retain juices throughout the grilling. Then lower the fire bed and continue cooking, turning over with tongs until desired degree of doneness is reached. Never pierce steak with a fork. This allows vital juices to escape. To char it, bring the coals up to the meat and flame the steak before serving. Add salt and pepper just before the steak is done.

Foreign Affairs Have Kept President Kennedy Hopping

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—If President Kennedy's first 18 months with Congress looked like an obstacle race, it was foreign affairs which truly kept him hopping.

Events abroad piled up but, because they were scattered over a year and a half and none yet has led to an explosion for the United States, many of them may have looked like minor episodes.

In one way or another, the United States had a stake in all of them and for that reason they were all problems for Kennedy.

His most visible mistake was in permitting the disastrous U.S.-backed Cuban invasion, at least in the way it was carried out. His biggest success was holding firm on Berlin until Premier Khrushchev cooled off.

If anything could be called his biggest frustration it was in the failure to get agreement on disarmament or a ban on nuclear testing. Presidents Truman and Eisenhower could understand this; they went through it, too.

Latin America was one of the busy places.

Besides the various bedevils of Cuba's Castro, assassination ended the 31-year dictatorship of Rafael Trujillo in the Dominican Republic, armies in Peru and Argentina threw out the elected governments, and civilian-military conflict in Brazil led to the departure of an elected President there.

In between times, Kennedy got hearty approval from the Latin Americans for his Alliance for Progress, although his hesitancy in recognizing military regimes showed he doubted progress comes through armies.

Algeria, after months of fury and assassinations by the secret army, won its independence from France only to be thrown into chaos by the rivalry of its own Moslem factions.

Those old enemies and next-door neighbors, Israel and Egypt, developed rockets. Syria broke loose from its union with Egypt. India and Pakistan were still in their quarrel over part of Kashmir.

Despite its moralizing about peace, India invaded and seized Portuguese Goa.

At home in Portugal, dictator Salazar began to have some trouble. So did dictator Franco in Spain next door. The United States has bases on Spanish and Portuguese territory.

The Congo got explosive, quieted down, and may really explode again in the unsettled dispute between the central government and the secessionist province of Katanga.

The United States got more deeply involved in South Vietnam to save it from a Communist takeover, sending in troops and weapons to sharpen the Vietnamese in guerrilla fighting.

There has been no enthusiasm in this country for getting involved in a war in landlocked Laos. Kennedy's toughness in the spring of 1961 about stiff-arming pro-Communist pushes there melted away and he finally settled for a so-called neutralist government which may dissolve into communism anyway.

Meanwhile he sent American troops into neighboring Thailand to bolster its defenses against any invasion by the Communist guerrillas of Laos.

Even Thailand and its neighbor, Cambodia, got into an international dispute over a temple. This was settled without shooting. Red China massed troops on the mainland opposite the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu but so far nothing has come of that.

The Dutch and Indonesians took to shooting over the ownership of New Guinea. And in Burma the and is completely selective and earned.

The 10th Annual Morris reunion was held recently at the Legion hall in Hanoverton. Fifty-three relatives and guests attended the dinner at noon.

The business meeting was conducted by Jack Beveridge. Secretary and treasurer report was given by Mrs. James Patterson. The 1963 gathering will be held at the same place on July 28.

Election of officers and appointment of committees followed. Officers are president Ronald Morris, secretary, Mrs. Paul Clapsaddle; and treasurer, Mrs. Patterson. Committees include scrapbook, Miss Donna Jean Moore; history, Arthur Morris and Mrs. James DeBray; table, Mr. and Mrs. Clapsaddle and refreshments, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McArtor.

Recognition was given to Mrs. Lillian Ault, eldest lady; Arthur Ault, eldest man; Kathy Hanson, youngest baby; and Mr. and Mrs. Van Mills, largest family and traveling the farthest.

The door prize was received by Bobbi Hagan. Towns represented were Bellaire, Alliance, Minerva, Canton; Kensington, East Rochester and Hanoverton.

A housewarming was held last week honoring Mrs. Larry Snyder at her home. Fifteen guests were present. Mrs. Snyder was the recipient of miscellaneous gifts and a favorite recipe from each guest. Winners of game prizes were Mrs. Harold McCullough, Mrs. Ronnie Berger, Mrs. Myron Whinnery and Mrs. Nick Cosma, Jr.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Miss Sue Pike, Miss Betty Loudon and Mrs. Janice Conroy. Guests were present from Salem, Lisbon, Guilford, Youngstown, Damascus, Hanoverton, Mingo Junction and Wintersville.

Past Matron and Past Patron club from Pleasant Valley chapter of O.E.S. met Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Archibald with 15 members present. Mrs. Kenneth Ray presided and plans were made for a picnic at the Ray home Aug. 27 at 6 p.m. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Archibald assisted by Mrs. Adin Hively.

Hanoverton Rainbow Girls Assembly received the "Grand Cross of Color" for outstanding service in Rainbow activities and community service recently at the Masonic Temple in Akron. This is the highest degree that can be conferred in Rainbow work.

First boat known to have been built exclusively for pleasure was the "Fancy," a yacht owned by Lewis Morris, of New York, in 1717, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Tribe Uses Unearned Run, Relief Pitching To Trip LA

Kirkland, Romano Homer; Yanks Win

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland celebrated the 30th anniversary of the first major league game ever played in Municipal Stadium in winning style.

The Indians, behind Gary Bell's fine relief pitching, took advantage of a seventh inning unearned run—scored without a hit—and went on to beat the Los Angeles Angels 5-3 Tuesday night.

Wooster Girls To Play

The Wooster Lumber Co., girls softball team, featuring Janet Reeder of Salem, will meet the world champion Whittier, Calif. Gold Sox in an encounter at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 18 at the Wooster Fairgrounds.

Hot Stove Leagues

One Class E, two Class F, two Class G and two Class H encounters were played Tuesday in the Hot Stove League with two shutouts being chalked up.

Class E

The Salem VFW tallied two runs in the top of the fourth inning to break the ice of a scoreless tilt and hung on to nip the CIO 3816 nine 2-1.

MIKE DE RIENZO'S two-run homer was all the VFW needed to gain its fifth win in 12 starts.

CIO tallied its run in the fifth on three walks.

Both teams collected two hits each with DeRienzo featuring for VFW and Dick Barrett's triple showing the way for CIO 3816.

Class F

The Eljer pushed runs across the plate in every inning but the second as it blanked the Farmers Bank 12-0.

A six-run fourth inning was led-off by a homer from the bat of Dave Fleischer.

Pacing the Eljer attack was Chuck Montgomery with three safeties. Gary Stoddard and Fleischer added two hits each.

Barry Marks collected a double for the losers.

Two errors in the top half of the seventh inning allowed Fisher's News to eke out a 3-2 win over Mullins.

BOTH AGGREGATIONS played nip-and-tuck ball for six frames, each scoring two runs.

Rick Hackett's two singles featured for the winners while Doug Plastow rapped a double for Mullins.

Class G

The Italian Club scored three runs in the first inning and then coasted to a 14-4 victory over the winless Lions Club. The losers are now 0-15 on the year.

Pacing the Italian Club attack were Greg Cline and Ray Zentko, both with two safeties apiece. John Fattler rapped two hits for the Lions and teammate Steve Davis socked a double.

Trailing 10-5 going into the last frame Bricker & Bricker almost pulled the game out of the fire with a four-run rally that fell short by one run as Scott's Sports held its lead to win 10-9.

Scott's tallied three times in the first and rolled to its victory. A triple by Randy Keefer and singles by Jim Wagner and Bill Karlof powered the seventh inning rally for Bricker's and the hits were the only ones recorded by the losers.

John Yingling with a three-run homer in the fifth and a single showed the way for Scott's.

Class H

League-leading Moose Lodge rolled to its 13th win without a loss in loop play by blanking the Howard's Studio crew 40-0 behind Dick Charnesky's one-hitter.

Pacing the 14-hit attack for Moose was Jay Youtz with four home runs in six trips to the plate. Fred Saftred chipped in with the fifth Moose homer.

MIKE CHAMBERLAIN got the only safety for the losers, who are now 0-16.

Home Furniture took a 4-1 lead in the first inning and never fell behind as the Jaycees lost 9-5.

Featuring for the winners was Dan Koch with a triple, double and a single. Ken Stein added a double and a single.

Bert Christen with a homer led the way for the Jaycees.

Browns' Davis Is Hospitalized

Mono Suspected; Out Of All-Star Tilt

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns continued practice at their training camp here today, but their thoughts were in an Evanston, Ill., hospital where Ernie Davis, the sensational rookie, is felled by a mysterious ailment.

First reports said the All-America halfback, whom the Browns signed to a three-year contract worth $80,000, was suffering from the mumps. Later, the announcement came that the ailment was mononucleosis, a blood disease.

That also was ruled out, however, Tuesday night by Dr. Franklin Kaiser, the attending physician in Evanston.

"It isn't mononucleosis," the doctor said. "I haven't come to any conclusion. I won't know until further tests are made."

Davis said from the hospital he was feeling well now. "The swelling as gone down some," Ernie explained. "It was worse yesterday morning. I had fever but not a very high one when I checked in the hospital."

"They have been running some tests, but haven't told me a thing. No, I don't feel weak."

The hard-running halfback definitely is out of the College All-Stars' lineup for Friday night's game with the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers.

Arthur Modell, the Browns' president, flew to Evanston to keep in close touch with the case.

Cagers Win 8th In Row; Bob Eskay Hoops 44 Markers

Woody Deitch poured in 34 markers to lead the undefeated Cagers to their eighth straight victory by dumping Spack's Specs 94-48 in the Summer Basketball League at Centennial Park Tuesday.

In other games second place Bosdick's Bombers bombed Shaffer's 78-62 and Gord's Bearcats edged Butler's Brats 74-70.

John Borrelli and Rick Thies flipped in 18 tallies apiece for the Cagers. Larry Deitch and Fred Ackerman paced the Specs with 14 points each.

Bosdick's, now 7-1 in the loop, were led by John Sturgeon's 22 allies while the league's leading scorer, John Hanna, pushed 24 points through the hoops for Shaffer's.

A 44-point spurge by the Bearcats' Bob Eskay powered the four-point victory. Ed Daugherty collected 24 markers for the Brats.

Sponsors of the event at the Scioto Country Club, where Nicklaus learned the game, expected a crowd near 5,000.

Nicklaus was in great form in another exhibition at Fort Wayne, Ind., Tuesday, firing a five-under-par 66 to beat PGA champion Gary Player by three strokes.

First 18 Holes Slated This Weekend At Flying 'B' Links

97 Entries Set For Annual City Golf Championships

A total of 97 entries, 26 more than last year, will compete in the second annual city-wide amateur golf championships which get under way Saturday and Sunday at the Flying 'B' Golf Course where the first 18 holes of the 54-hole tournament will be played.

The tourney is organized on a different format than last year's event. Instead of all participants competing for one overall championship, the entry list has been broken down into three flights. Handicaps were used to determine what flight a player would play in.

IN THE AA FLIGHT, those with handicaps of zero to nine, 28 will vie for the title; in the

A Flight, those with handicaps of 10 to 16, a total of 33 are seeking the honors; and in the B Flight, those with handicaps of 17 and above, 36 will battle for the championship.

Tournament officials announced today that entries will still be accepted until 3 p.m. Saturday at the Flying 'B' links, provided that those wishing to enter have an established handicap and are willing to play at the tee off times available.

After the 18 holes are completed at Flying 'B', the tournament moves to Robbyn's Knoll for another 18 holes on Saturday, Aug. 10, and Sunday, Aug. 11.

Following the Robbyn's Knoll action a cut will be made and the first 20 players in each flight, including ties, will tangle in the championship round scheduled for the Salem Golf Club on Sunday, Aug. 19.

SUDDEN DEATH PLAYOFFS will be held in case of ties. This was the case last year when Rudy Schuster won the city title by beating Ed Pukalski in a sudden death playoff after both had tied for the top spot. Both Schuster and Pukalski will vie in the AA Flight.

A total of 15 trophies, which various concerns in the area are donating, will be given to winners in the three flights. The entire amount received in entry fees will be returned in merchandise.

Industrial Mining, Italian Club Eliminated

Jackson Leads Lincoln To Tournament Win

Jack Jackson powered second-seeded Lincoln Machine to a 5-3 victory over Odom's Sohio by driving in four runs in one of three Columbus County Softball Tournament games played at Kelley Park Tuesday. Odom's now drops to the losers' bracket of the double elimination tourney.

IN OTHER BATTLES played Industrial Mining was eliminated from the tourney by East Liverpool Patterson-Wetzel 11 - 3 and East Liverpool Ferlaino Construction dumped the Italian Club 2-1 in another losers' bracket encounter.

The Mining and Italian Club defeats increases the total number of squads dropped from the double elimination tournament to six out of a starting field of 16.

In scoring its victory over Odom's Sohio, the co-leader in the city Class A League with a 15-5 mark, Lincoln Machine now takes on Class AA pacesetter Stepanic's Tavern, which also sports a 15-5 loop record, tonight. Lincoln is in second place in the AA circuit with a 12-7 record.

Lincoln Machine jumped to a 3-0 margin in the first inning as a walk, a single by Bill DeFavero and a double by Jackson accounted for two runs. Jackson tallied the third run when Charley Marks singled him home.

The winners racked up the winning two runs in the third inning when Jerry Mountz singled and Jackson cracked a homer to send Lincoln into a 5-0 lead.

ODOM'S PICKED UP three runs in the last of the third canto on singles by Gerry Jeffries, Tom Ehrhart and Bill Panzott. A walk and an error aided the Odom's rally.

Jackson paced the Lincoln attack with three hits in three trips to the plate. DeFavero chipped in with two safeties.

Patterson-Wetzel exploded for six tallies in the first inning and coasted to its victory over Industrial Mining.

The Mining nine pushed two runs across the plate in the first inning and added its third tally in the fourth frame.

Bill Robinson with two singles featured for the losing Mining aggregation.

Frank Kinney with two triples and a double paced the East Liverpool crew.

Ferlaino Construction scored two runs in the last of the fourth canto to break a scoreless pitcher's duel between Don Casey of the Italian Club and Frank Paytors of Ferlaino's.

The winners tallied on singles by Dennis Adkins and Bob Campbell and was helped out by an error and a sacrifice fly.

THE ITALIAN CLUB came back with a tally in the top of the sixth stanza on singles by Jim Foremn and Jim Hughes. John Chaffin also got a sacrifice fly in the frame.

Casey suffered the loss, giving up three hits, walking one and fanning six. Paytors allowed four hits, walked one and struck out seven in gaining the win.

Lucas Undecided About Future Plans

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Jerry Lucas became the prize pawn today in the battle between the rival professional basketball leagues.

The Cleveland Pipers, champions of the American Basketball League in the circuit's initial season and rejected Monday on their application bid to become a member of the National Basketball Association, feel they have the inside track on Lucas.

Terms of Contract Not Met

The Pipers and their president, George Steinbrenner, had Lucas' name on a contract to play in the ABL, then to play in the NBA—but now have neither. It is agreed Lucas is under no contract, since the terms of his agreement were not met. He is to confer with Steinbrenner today.

Lucas, regarded as the greatest new box-office attraction in basketball, is being badgered on all sides.

"I've had six calls from all over the country," he said from Columbus Tuesday. "I'm going to listen to them all."

With the Pipers' door to the NBA now closed, the ABL put out the welcome mat for the return of Cleveland to that circuit. And ABL commissioner Abe Saperstein, who also gets around as head of the Harlem Globetrotters, was hurrying back from Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Saperstein was reported on a mission to meet Lucas, probably Thursday.

Saperstein's opposite number, NBA president Maurice Podoloff, made his pitch to Lucas in a meeting in Columbus Saturday.

NBA Gives Lucas Offer

Lucas said he received an "indirect offer" from the NBA Tuesday. Joe Hardy, a Columbus businessman who has been acting as adviser to Lucas, told of the Saturday meeting.

Podoloff asked Lucas to sign a contract directly with the NBA, Hardy said, and started at $10,000. "Eventually, he was talking in terms of $50,000 and $60,000," Hardy added. "Jerry refused because of his contract with Steinbrenner."

Podoloff then gave Lucas three plane tickets and told him to meet him for a conference in New York Tuesday if the Pipers were turned down. Not long after the Pipers were rejected at the New York meeting, Lucas received a telegram from Podoloff saying the conference was off and asking for the return of the plane tickets.

"I like Cleveland," Lucas said. "I wanted to play there. I'm not saying that I don't know, but at the moment I don't know what I'm going to do."

Lucas originally signed a two-year contract, providing or an estimated $60,000. It included $40,000 in blue-chip stocks.

Stock Was Never There

"We were notified that the stock was being held in escrow in a Cleveland bank," he said. "A later check-up proved it wasn't there."

Steinbrenner, struggling to raise money, got a big boost late Tuesday from George McKeon, wealthy California builder who owned the San Francisco Saints in the ABL last season. McKeon said he sent "good faith" money to a bank here to back up the commitment to Lucas.

"We will honor Jerry's contract to the letter if he plays for Cleveland in the ABL," McKeon said from Sacramento.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

There are still big walleyes in Guilford Lake as was evidenced when Spencer "Tugboat" Hayman proudly displayed a seven pound 14 1/2 ounce walleye measuring 27 1/2 inches long taken last Saturday. The weighing in ceremony took place at Mark's Landing.

Spence and his brother Quinten were born in Apple Grove, down the Ohio River. I knew them 25 years ago when they were farm kids not yet dry behind the ears. . . devilish boys but not bad boys. Running true to form I learned Spence did not catch the fish at all but J. R. Whiteman of Wellsville, a retired railroad and well known gunsmith, actually caught the fish on one of those deep running Heddon Sonars.

I HAVE MENTIONED this fish-getting lures before and it seems the big fish hang out in the deeper parts of the lake right on the bottom this time of the year. So there you have it, sound them out with a Sonar.

Spence, now living in East Liverpool, tells me that all the young kids I used to know living on the fertile Ohio river farm bottoms, known as the "Pomeroy Bend," have moved to East Liverpool. If they ever have a Meigs County reunion I hope I will be invited because I spent some of my happiest days working for The Daily Tribune, a small town daily published in Pomeroy.

Another young matron I happened to run across recently that knew me, but I did not recognize, was a Mrs. Kaiser. The last time I saw her was 25 years ago; she was a very pretty young 'teen-ager with the maiden name of Mabel Hartenbough. She now resides in East Liverpool.

ANOTHER OUTSTANDING catch made at Guilford last week was a four and half pound bass measuring 22 1/2 inches, checked in at Bob's Bait House. It was taken off the retaining wall by Paul Graebing of Wellsville using a night crawler for bait. Other fish providing action at Guilford are bullheads and channel catfish, small crappies along with eight and nine inch bass and big carp. I had two fishermen tell me they tied on to two carp that they could not turn. Once hooked they took off for the other side of the lake and all they had to show for their efforts were snapped lines. You will be surprised to know how many good fishermen enjoy carp fishing. You hook on to a carp of 10 lbs. or more and you have a real scrapper on the line. They don't leap and break water like game fish but they use all the brute force fish possess heading for deep water.

Bluegills, small bass and bullheads are being taken at Zephernick Lake, along with an occasional chain pickerel. People, primarily from Alliance and Canton, flock to this fishing spot, especially over the weekends.

To settle a question: a hunting license is required to hunt ground hogs although there is no closed season on the animals. It is illegal to hunt them on Sunday and you can pay a penalty of $15 to $200.

Baylor's Ron Bull May Replace Davis

Packers 19-Point Pick Over College All-Stars

By JOE MOOSHLIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—As if facing the Green Bay Packers, National Football League champions, was not enough, the College All-Stars will have to go into the game Friday night without the services of Ernie Davis.

Davis, the All-America from Syracuse and last year's Heisman Award winner, will miss the game because of a possible case of infectious mononucleosis.

Balanced Squad
Davis' loss, however, doesn't worry head coach Otto Graham too much. "This is a balanced squad," says Graham, "and we can get along despite losing one man."

Davis may be replaced by Ron Bull, the hard-running back from Baylor who was being groomed as a flanker.

The All-Stars are 19-point underdogs and their victories are few and far between in this series. They have won eight times while the pros boast of 18 victories. Twice the games have ended in ties.

The loss of Davis may not be too great considering the theory that the collegians must pass in order to win.

Nevertheless, Graham has said,

"We can run against those Packers if we can get some blocking in front of those runners." All Stars loaded with runners Graham's hopes are bolstered by the fact that he has such runners as Lance Alworth of Arkansas, Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, Earl Gros of Louisiana State, Jim Saxton of Texas, Curtis McClym of Kansas and LeRoy Jackson of Western Illinois.

In the passing department, the All-Stars will rely on the likes of John Hadl of Kansas, Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Bobby Ply of Baylor.

Major League Stars

Batting—Bill Skowron, Yankees, hit grand slam homer in first inning, later added single, pacing American League leaders to 9-5 victory over Washington that boosted edge over second-place Los Angeles to six games.

Pitching — Hoyt Wilhelm, Orioles, protected one-run lead over final 1-3 innings while preserving Jack Fisher's first victory in a month in 8-7 triumph over Minnesota.

A word from THERON at the Old Country Store

Every day people come in and ask us what they have to do to win these free steak dinners and what S.S.A. means. It means Stamp Savers Anonymous.

People who would rather there were no such a thing as trading stamps can join this club. This group is growing every day. You will not be asked to join but you will be welcomed any time you are ready. Every day people come in and say sign me up, I've had enough of them.
